Read the texts about education and match the headlines and the paragraphs

1. Education: the Way to the Top

✓ Education has the power to transform a person's life. I am the living example of this. When I was on the streets, I thought I was not good at anything but I wrote a poem, and it got published. I went back to school to learn. I have learned the benefit of research and reading, of debate and listening. One day soon a group of fresh-faced college students will call me professor.
2. The Right Word Can Bring Changes

✓ Language has the capacity to change the world and the way we live in it. People are often afraid to call things by their direct names, use taboos not to notice dangerous tendencies. Freedom begins with naming things. This has to happen in spite of political climates, careers being won or lost, and the fear of being criticized. After Helen Candicott used the word 'nuclear arms race' an anti-nuclear movement appeared.
3. Learning that Never Stops

✓ Lifelong learning does not mean spending all my time reading. It is equally important to get the habit of asking such questions as 'what don't I know about the topic, or subject?', 'what can I learn from this moment or person?', and 'what more do I need to learn?' regardless of where I am, who am I talking to, or what I am doing.
4. The Power of Numbers

✓ Maths has always been something that I am good at. Mathematics attracts me because of its stability. It has logic; it is dependable and never changes. There might be some additions to the area of mathematics, but once mathematics is created, it is set in stone. We would not be able to check emails or play videogames without the computer solving complex algorithms.
5. From Agony to Love

✓ When my high school English teacher asked us to read Shakespeare, I thought it was boring and too difficult. I agonized over the syntax - I had never read anything like this. But now I am a Shakespeare professor, an enjoy teaching Hamlet every semester. Each time I re-read the play, I find and learn something new for myself.
